Welcome to your FAN In A Minute...

Do you know the FAR now provides more guidance on using some of the small business acquisition strategies available when awarding multiple-award contracts?

FAR Case 2014-002 explains when and how “reserves” are done on multiple-award contracts.

More information is also given on small business strategies that can be used when placing orders against multiple-award contracts.

Requirements for when and how to do partial set-asides have also substantially changed.

The new rule also gives a sneak peak at a future requirement to assign some multiple-award contracts more than one NAICS code and an associated small business size designation.
